A list of options will be posted online. - week 3

This will be on your own time. There will not be any class time given to a book review.

HOMWORK AND WEEKLY TESTS

You will not have homework every week. You will need to study outside of class, and you will occasionally have assignments to complete at home.

You will have a weekly test over the skill(s) we cover in class along with vocabulary.

STATIONS

You will have station work every Tuesday.

You will be given your station assignments at the beginning of each three week set. You must have all station work completed by the end of the three weeks.

You will be assigned groups for station work, and your groups will rotate every three weeks.

TURNING IN WORK

You will put your work with your name and date on it in your class tray.

The ONLY place work should be turned in is the tray for your class period.

LATE WORK

HANDBOOK POLICY:

- 1 day late assignments will receive a maximum grade of 70
- 2 days late assignments will receive a maximum grade of 50
- More than two days late assignments will be assigned a zero

ABSENT?

If you are absent, check the board for what you missed. (It is your responsibility to get work that you missed. I will not hunt you down or give it to you.)

You are given the same number of days you are absent to complete the work you missed. Anything turned in after that number of days will be counted as late.

(If you miss for a prolonged amount of time, I will work with you to make a plan to get caught up.)

NEED SUPPLIES?

I have notebook paper and pens and pencils on the back counter.

I am here to help you with anything you need - just ask.

LEAVING CLASS

DO NOT start packing up before the bell, unless I tell you to do so.

The bell doesn't dismiss you. I will tell you when you can leave.

You must clean up your desk and the area including the floor around your desk before leaving the class.

TUTORIALS

Set by appointment - we can work around your schedule. You have to let me know in advance.

QUESTIONS?

I am really excited for this year!
